The garden party and apron sale on the Methodist parsonage grounds yesterday afternoon was a very pleasant affair but the attendance was not large. An excellent tea was served at 6 o'clock. The music of the fire brigade band, which was present, added greatly to the attraction of the evening. This was the first appearance of the band in full uniform. The uniforms are handsome and the music was excellent.

JOHN SHUE, late of Stirling, Ontario, who was employed in H. A. Finch's saddlery and harness shop this spring, died on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, of inflammation of the lungs. A. HALLBERG, of Kettle Falls, Washington, arrived on Monday's train as a delegate from a Swedish settlement there, induced to visit Edmonton on the representations of C. O. SWANSON. Mr. Hallberg has visited Fort Saskatchewan and other parts of the district and is well pleased with the country, finding it quite up to representations made, and far beyond his own expectations. He proposes to take land at Birch lake on his return from Washington and expects to be accompanied by a large number of neighbors from Washington and relatives and friends from Minnesota, where he lived before removing to Washington. He has lived in Washington eleven years.

A PARTY of half breeds from the Jasper House and Smoky river are on their way in to Edmonton to claim scrip according to the arrangement of 1885. These people are generally spoken of as Indians, being the descendants of a party of Iroquois Indians brought from Canada many years ago as hunters and boat men. They intermarried with the Crees and half breeds and the result is a mixed race. They are all Christians and have been baptised into the Roman Catholic church under French names. Although frequently spoken of as Indians they do not acknowledge themselves as such, and never asked for or took treaty money. After long delay they have decided to ask for scrip as half breeds. They number about twenty-four families.

JOSEPH FAVEL the well known steamboat pilot on the Saskatchewan and the Athabasca died at the Landing on Sunday last after a long illness. He was very ill in Edmonton last winter but recovered in spring sufficiently to start for Fort Chipewyan, where he was to take command of the H. B. steamer Grahame, running on the waters of the river and lake Athabasca and the lower Peace river. He was unable to proceed further than the landing, where he lay ill until his death. Mr. Favel was one of the very best pilots on either the Saskatchewan or Athabasca. He had been a pilot of York boats on the former in the old days and when steamers superseded York boats he became a steamboat pilot. When the H. B. Co. built the first steamer—the Grahame—on the waters of the Mackenzie, Mr. Favel became his pilot.

R. MCKENZIE of South Edmonton has increased his facilities for the making of large quantities of first class butter by the purchase of an Alexandria separator which arrived on last train. The separator was set up by Thos. E. Ingram of Poplar lake and gives every satisfaction. The separator is a machine by the action of which the cream is separated from the milk by centrifugal force, instead of waiting for it to separate from the milk and rise to the top as under ordinary circumstances. One advantage of the separator is that a large quantity of milk can be handled more quickly than by the skimming process. As the separation is made as soon as the milk is drawn the difficulty of keeping the milk from absorbing any bad flavor during the long period of waiting for the cream to rise is avoided. There is no waste of cream as in skimming and therefore a larger quantity of cream is secured. What is probably the most important point of all where calves are being raised is that the milk is still perfectly fresh after the cream is extracted, and is therefore very much better food for the calves than where it has been allowed to stand long enough for the cream to rise and must have become more or less sour. The cost of the separator is $110, with about $8 freight. Of course a separator would only be of advantage where the milk of a considerable number of cows was being worked up.

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sum of $15,000 by the issue of debentures, the principal whereof shall be repayable in 20 years from the date on which this By-law takes effect and which shall bear interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of five per cent per annum.

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the repayment of the said principal sum by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The Edmonton crown land, timber and registry office building is nearing completion. The plastering is done and the carpenters are finishing their part of the work. This building is important not only on account of its substantial nature and the purpose for which it is being erected, but also on account of the circumstances leading to its construction in its present place at the present time, and that it is the first tangible acknowledgment from the government that the town of Edmonton had any right to exist. It is only a little over a year ago that a most terrible tunnel took place regarding it, might be said, this very building. In order to demonstrate it is far from being a mere structure of stone and mortar, but a masterpiece of architecture, it is being erected on the old Hudson's Bay Company warehouse, at Edmonton and elsewhere, except that it has a little less wall and a little more roof than most of them. In the matter of window light it holds them about even. But if the outside appearance is unattractive, the interior is roomy and conveniently arranged, the construction is to the last degree substantial and the inside finishing is elegant. It stands on the southeast corner at the intersection of Victoria avenue and Sixth street and faces the former.

The outside dimensions are 31 feet 6 inches by 70 feet. The walls are 22 feet from the bottom of the basement to the plates, and are of brick, 18 inches thick. The roof is of galvanized iron and has a gabled pitch. There is a brick porch 4 feet by 20 feet inside on the north face. The entrance is by a double door in the centre of the porch.

On entering the porch a single door a little to the right of the centre gives access directly to the land office, which occupies a space 30x30, in the west end of the building. Of this space, however 6x18 is taken off the southwest corner of the room by the vaults, and a like space is taken off the southeast corner by the private office. A counter 18 feet long runs from the corner of the private office to the north wall which gives the public a floor space of 6x18 in which to transact their business. The vault in the corner of the land office is double, with an iron division between. The walls are of brick built up from the bottom of the basement, 20 inches thick with 2 inch space in centre. The vaults are 6x3 and 6x12 respectively inside and have an inner and an outer pair of iron doors. The outer doors are an inch and a quarter thick of steel and iron. They are from the Goldie & McCulloch safe works. The floor is of concrete resting on a brick arch.

A little to the left of the centre of the porch a double door gives entrance to the main hall, which is 20 feet square. The winding stairway leading to the upper story is in this hall, and also the entrance to the basement.

The private office of the land agent 16x18 feet occupies part of the space between the hall and the rear wall of the building and is entered from the main hall, to the right of the stairway. There is also a door between the private office and the land office.

To the left of the hall is the entrance to the registry office which occupies all the east end of the building and is 30x25 feet. A private office 10x14 will be partitioned off in the northeast corner of the room and a counter will run from the hall wall to the wall of the private office, giving the public a floor space of 6x18 feet. The registry office vault is in rear of the east side of the hall and is 3x14 feet, on exactly the same plan as the vaults in the land office.

The rooms in the lower story are wainscoted, and in the upper story have a moulded baseboard, windows are box framed and work with weights. The interior wood work is of British Columbia fir, and is very handsome, particularly the main stairway. The height of the lower ceiling is 11 feet and of the upper ceiling 8 feet.

The upper story is divided into eight rooms which are being completely finished, but for what purpose, if any, they are to be used, is not known. Both first and second stories are given three coats of plaster, the walls are finished in grey and the ceilings in white.

The basement is entered by stairway from the main hall and will be finished with concrete floor and plastered ceiling. A large brick flue is built from the bottom of the basement to take the pipe from the hot air furnace which will be in the basement. The vaults are also built from the bottom of the basement, and the lower space thus formed can be utilized if necessary.

The contractor, Walter Alford expects to have the work completely finished by the middle of July, although the agreement does not require it to be completed until September.

The Russell, Manitoba, Chronicle, of June 22nd has an article on the Manitoba North-western railway, which gives the actual cost of construction of the Shell river branch per mile as follows: The average number of yards to be moved per mile for 11 miles was ten thousand, and the contractor doing the work got 13 cents a yard or $1,300 per mile. Rails were at that time $29 per ton delivered in Winnipeg, or $3,000 per mile. Ties 2,500 per mile at 40 cents $920 per mile. Track laying, etc., $500 per mile, one station building and tank, $1,500 or $150 per mile, four or five culverts at $75 each, with the telegraph line and survey completes the cost. There was no ballast of any consequence, the right of way cost comparatively little and no fencing, so that $6,000 per mile is the cost.

Some believed it and others did not. However,
Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, of the Dominion Government Geo-

himself that there are ample indications to warrant development operations being begun. (Vide, Edmondo the Dominion and Territorial Governments, and also the Canadian Pacific Railway, propose doing about it? And when? All three are equally interested. It is the duty of every person in Northern Alberta to make the most of such an important discovery of mineral wealth in our district, and to keep things agitated until something is done to develop-

W. G. IBBOTSON,

NORTH ALBERTA.

The Calgary correspondent of the Regina Standard visited Edmonton recently. After giving an excellent and accurate description of the country and its progress from Olds to Battle River he continues: "In fact, this Battle River country is one of the points on which settlers' eyes are steadily fixed, and hundreds have taken up lands there this year. The soil is everything that can be desired and the scenery simply glorious. Wetaskiwin is one of the stations at which settlers for the Battle River country get off, and here I found a town that has sprung up almost in a night. In January, there was, I am told, only one house of any kind in addition to the railway depot; now there is a house and hotel accommodation for 400 to 500 people. Many of the buildings and stores are very commodious and the whole town is a credit to the people who have come to stay. Besides the people who have taken up land and are still in canvas tents, large herds of horses, the property of the settlers, were to be seen in the streets in charge of mounted herders, their cattle being still in quarantine at the U. S. border. Most of these settlers are newly arrived from the States of Washington, Idaho and Oregon, and all are in excellent circumstances. Every day sees new arrivals from those States. Wetaskiwin is within 40 miles of Edmonton, and both north and south of it farms are being rapidly taken up. South Edmonton, has progressed in a way to surprise me. The largest hotel north of Calgary is found here, and a flour mill has been built. The town is well laid out, is being rapidly built up and has a prosperous appearance. Edmonton itself has improved greatly. The streets have been straightened; new streets have been laid out; many new buildings have been erected; numerous old properties show marks of improvement, and the beautiful town as a whole shows all the evidences of prosperity. As a townsite it has no superior in beauty of situation in Canada, while the wealth of vegetation and the variety of products are marvellous. Representatives of some 1,300 families have gone north from Calgary, already this season, including several large parties of Swedes; Manitobans from Oak Lake (a body of whom went up about ten days ago), and Mennonites from Southern Manitoba; Nova Scotians, Ontarians, etc. Many Dakotans have come in, and a colony from Chicago is expected soon. While the Battle River country and the district of which Olds is the centre have attracted two very important colonies, yet the Edmonton district proper, Stony Plain, the Fort Saskatchewan country, Egg Lake, and other tracts have also benefited largely; and the character of the immigration is such as to give special cause for satisfaction. No one can travel over this country between Calgary and Edmonton, see the large bodies of intelligent, healthy people who congregate at every station, all intent on business; notice the neat homesteads that have sprung up in every direction, and the large area of newly cultivated land; or converse with the hopeful, energetic new comers, without feeling that the foundations of society are being well and truly laid in one of the most agricultural regions of North America."

GENERAL NEWS.

The Free Press calls premier Greenway a mass of corruption, vulgarity and selfishness.

St. John's college, Qu'Appelle has been closed temporarily on account of an outbreak of scarlet fever.

Reported that there is a complete break in the friendly relations hitherto existing between the Great Northern and C. P. railways. When thieves fall out, honest men get their due.

Regina Leader: Mr. Clarke Wallace, comptroller of customs, at Cookstown defended the government's conduct as to the Jesuits' Estates and as to the Manitoba schools, and contended the government had in both cases acted on the same principle.

Grafton, (N. D.) Record: I read in a Northfield, (Minnesota,) paper, that it has been so warm down there that the working people of the town are kept busy throwing the summer supply of ice into the Cannon river to keep it from boiling over its banks and scalding people.

Lethbridge News: A party of settlers from Idaho passed through town on Monday on their way to Edmonton district. They appeared to be well-to-do, having with them a number of horses and farming implements. They camped near the bridge on Monday, nearly all day.

Lethbridge News: The miners of the A. R. & C. Co. were paid on Monday last about $15,000 being paid out. This with the railway employees pay sheet which will be paid next week brings the pay roll for the month in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Lethbridge News: Mr. G. H. Strevel, railway contractor of Winnipeg, paid a visit to town yesterday, and in conversation with a friend in town he stated that he expected to be back here some time this summer to start work on the extension to Macleod.

It will be remembered that last winter six men left Estevan to walk to Minot, N. D., and only three of them reached their destination. Last week the bodies of the three others were found near Delack lake on the American side. They evidently perished from cold.—Melita Enterprise.

Regina Leader: "A Fraud! A Fraud! The wild beast show held here on Tuesday was a fraud—a lion or two and an elephant and a lot of tough looking men and women and a dollar for admission! They have gone west and will by this time have 'hambugged' the youths and maidens of other places." The allusion is to Washburn's circus, which was to visit Edmonton June 24th, but didn't.

Although the town of Kaslo in the Kootenay mining region of British Columbia has no railroad communication with the outside world its enterprising citizens have commenced the construction of a railway from their town to the mines upon whose development the success of the town depends, which was being impeded by the springing up of rival towns.

Rather than face a new trial for libel at the suit of Joseph Martin, ex-M. P. P. for Portage la Prairie, the Free Press says: "In view of the above the Free Press retracts the words complained of in this and the other cases in which actions have been brought, and apologizes therefor." The Tribune says that the Free Press pays all the costs of both parties, which will amount at least $7,000.

Star, Revelstoke, B. C.: There is a hitch somewhere in the construction of the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railway. Work has ceased for the time being. Contractor McLean's men are laid off for ten days, but there is no doubt of the road being completed some time in the dim and dusty future. Nelson and Revelstoke are both suffering from hope deferred.

The Winnipeg Free Press which formerly advocated commercial union strongly now advises the liberal party that: "It is simply madness to attempt to restore commercial union as the policy of the party in the next campaign. To do that would be to invite defeat. The Canadian people want tariff reform and will have it; but anything savouring of political union with the United States, with commercial subjection to the United States, or anything suggesting it, however remotely, will not go down."
